FAQs:

“Can’t my clients just take a tax credit?”

According to the Internal Revenue Code Section 901(e)(1) and the published instructions on the IRS Foreign Tax Credit Form 1116, a taxable investor is able to take a tax credit for the amount of money that they are not able to reclaim from the foreign country. The portion that could be reclaimed, whether it is or not, is not available as a credit or deduction from taxes. Tax exempt investors generally do not pay taxes in the U.S. and so would not have an opportunity to take a tax credit anyway.

“Of the clients I advise, which ones would benefit from GlobeTax’s services?”

Any investor with meaningful foreign holdings can benefit from tax reclamation. Generally speaking, it will be the larger clients who benefit the most. The increase in returns can range from 10-20+ basis points for a balanced portfolio with an international component (including ADRs).

“What steps are required to work with GlobeTax?”

Sign-up is an easy, one-time procedure, and involves execution of simple documents authorizing us to obtain Certifications of Tax Residency which we need as evidence to overseas tax authorities of domicile and tax filing status. These documents allow GlobeTax to file reclaims on our clients’ behalf. We then act as a back-stop, monitoring income (dividend and interest) and filing as recovery events arise.
